

SKILL RECAP

DISTRESS TOLERANCE

TEMPERATURE

Change the temperature by holding ice cubes, taking a cold shower, or using the TIPP skill (quick bursts of intense cold, intense exercise, and mindful breathing)

DISTRACTION

Using the ACCEPTS skill, distract yourself with an enjoyable activity, contributing to others, thought-consuming tasks, etc.

URGE SURFING

Urge surfing helps you sit with your thoughts/urges, experience discomfort but remaining mindful that it will pass.

SELF SOOTHE

Engage in calming tasks for each of your senses (smell a scented candle, cover yourself in a cozy blanket, etc.)

MINDFULNESS

EMOTION CHECK IN

Measure your SUD score to determine which skills will be most helpful in the moment

PRETZEL RELAXATION

For 1-5 minutes, sit with crossed arms and legs and focus on your breathing. Repeat as needed

What are: 5 things you can see, 4 things you can touch, 3 things you can hear, 2 things you can smell, and 1 thing you can taste

EMOTION REGULATION

CHECK THE FACTS

Focus on the facts to determine if your emotional intensity and action-urges fit the facts

THOUGHT DEFUSION

Manage intrusive thoughts without letting them take over by separating them from yourself

INTERPERSONAL

DEARMAN

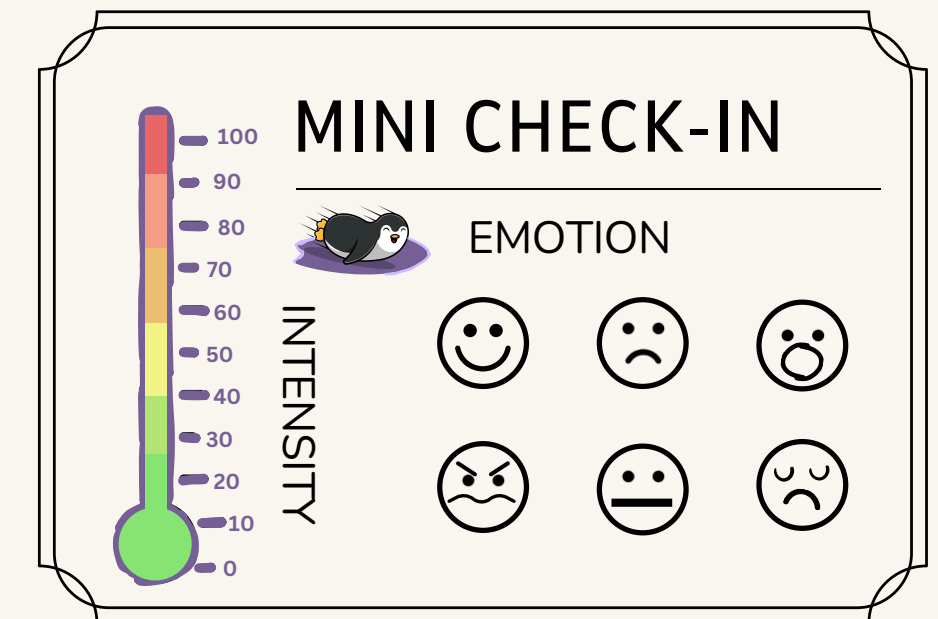

Write and practice a script to use to explain your point of view and obtain your goals

SOCIAL SUPPORTS

Obtain support from safe people who are with you, whether in-person or over the phone

BOUNDARIES

Boundaries are a way to protect your needs and your comfort level (which are really important!)

COPE AHEAD

Plan skills and strategies to use when anticipating a challenging/anxiety-provoking situation.
